UNEMPLOYED MOB RIOT IN LONDON

JOBLESS MEN IN PROTEST; PREMIER TO GIVE RELIEF

Thousands Of People In Downing Street Demonstration

ATTACK POLICE

Government Will Ask Cities To Pay Half Of Expense

MAYORS CONFER

Outbreak Takes Place While Plans For Aid Are Made

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 18.—A march of thousands of unemployed from the Thames Embankment to Westminster led to exciting scenes in Downing Street, where a deputation of 15 Mayors of London Boroughs was interviewing Mr. Lloyd George in regard to provision for unemployment.

A crowd of demonstrators, carrying Red flags, repeatedly tried to rush the police who were guarding No. 10 Downing Street, and threw stones.

Police reinforcements, including mounted police, were called out, and these charged and dispersed the crowd.

Thirty or forty of the demonstrators were injured and twenty were treated in hospital. Ten policemen were hurt. The fracas lasted for over two hours. A number of arrests were made.

PREMIER HEARS MAYORS

While the ruffianly element which formed part of an otherwise orderly demonstration was indulging in disorderly conduct, the Prime Minister listened attentively to the representations of the mayoral deputation.

In the course of his reply, Mr. Lloyd George stated that the Government had appointed a strong Cabinet Committee to consider the whole prospect of unemployment.

He referred to the fact that the present Government had made the most liberal and generous provision ever made for unemployment after the war at the expense of the very much overburdened taxpayers and ratepayers, but they were fully alive to their obligations to ex-service men.

He announced that the Government's plans for dealing with unemployment would be announced in the House of Commons tomorrow.

WILL DEFY UNIONS

The Premier mentioned that the Government had submitted certain schemes to the London County Council, and offered to find one-half of the necessary money if London would find the other half. A similar proposal was being put before other big towns.

He further declared that the Government were going to employ ex-service men on much-needed house-building, notwithstanding the objections of the building trades unions to relax their rules in connection with these men. "And if the building trades object they must take their chance," he added in conclusion.

American Bankers To Finance Cuba Planters Of Sugar

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Oct. 18.—Representatives of American bankers at a conference with Government officials and representatives of sugar interests, have agreed to afford relief to the financial stringency in Cuba by purchasing Cuba Government bonds, the money to be used to finance the sugar crops.

SIEGE IS LIFTED

London, October 19.—A telegram from Reuter's Bagdad correspondent states that the town of Kufah, which had been beleaguered since July, was relieved on October 17. The garrison's condition was excellent.

A. P. C. Man Is Killed By Bandits Near Chungking

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 20.—Mr. R. A. Covil, a representative of the Asiatic Petroleum Company, was shot and killed at Chungking recently.

It appears that the Yunnan troops, driven out of Chungking, crossed the river and maintained a straggling fire, directed at the opposite bank and at river-craft.

Mr. Covil and four companions were crossing the river in a motor-launch, when a bullet, obviously fired by the Yunnanese, struck him.

JAPANESE DENY CREDIT EXPANSION FOR PIECE GOODS

Banks Calling Money; Stocks Being Dumped On Market

An increasingly gloomy outlook for the piece goods merchants here is the prediction of dealers and interested observers. The Japanese dealers, who, it has been rumored, were grasping the opportunity afforded by the practical paralysis of other foreign firms to try and break extensively into the China market by generous proffers of credit to the Chinese dealers, are now claiming that they are even harder pressed than any of the other foreign traders.

CALL IN LOANS

In consequence of the money stringency in Japan, it is said, the Japanese banks are making strenuous efforts to call in their loans—including some Yen 350,000,000 standing against the credit local firms. With a considerable amount of piece goods cargo being held here the importers are throwing the goods on sale at cost and standing the loss.

Denial that Japanese firms are taking advantage of the present critical situation by extending unusual credit to Chinese piece goods dealers in an effort to displace British and American goods was made yesterday by the heads of piece goods departments of several large Japanese concerns.

SITUATION SERIOUS

The situation is too serious to admit of an extensive offering of credits, they declare, and with the banks in Japan bringing pressure to bear against their outstanding credit no responsible Japanese firm would dare to juggle with conditions, even on the chance of clinching future business.

"The situation is dark," said M. Baba, of the piece goods department of the Mitsubishi Company. "That is the one word for it, and I do not believe that any Japanese firms are making any wide offerings of credit at the present time. There is considerable cargo held here just now, but no more is being imported and I doubt whether there will be very much activity before we are well into the next year. The only hope of betterment in the situation is that of an improvement in exchange."

APPEALS TO CONSUL

The British Consul-General has been asked to confer with the banking houses and the representatives of manufacturers to give assistance to the Chinese piece-goods merchants and other importers. The request was contained in a letter addressed to him by the Chinese Importers' Exchange Maintenance Association.

In reply, the Consul-general stated that the matter would have to be referred to the British Commercial Attache before action could be taken.

WAR AND FAMINE IN SHENSI RENDER MILLION HOMELESS

Delegate Tells Local Relief Society That $300,000 Is Needed There

SHANTUNG ASKS HELP

People Of Northwest Are Starving And Immediate Aid Is Imperative

The deplorable conditions created in Shensi by the atrocities of war and the consequences of drought among 3,000,000 people were graphically described yesterday by Mr. Wang Yu-tang, local representative of the Shensi Relief Committee, at the regular meeting of the Shanghai Merchants' Famine Relief Society, 13 Avenue Edward VII.

Over 20,000 persons lost their lives and over 1,000,000 were rendered homeless during the three years of internal strife in the province, while the property loss is $100,000,000, according to Mr. Wang. As a result of the drought since a year ago September, 2,000,000 people in 50 different cities are starving.

Mr. Wang attributes the scarcity of food to the increasing cultivation of opium and the consumption of food by the troops stationed in the province. The price of wheat has soared to $21 per picul and of noodles, 18 cents per catty. People are selling their children and committing suicide every day.

NEEDS $300,000

Some $300,000 is now needed to conserve the Tsing River, which work will, according to engineers, eliminate the drought in the south-east Shensi, where the suffering has been greatest. The Tsing River turns at a certain mountainous region known as Tiao-Er-chai, which, if quarried, will direct the stream into southeast Shensi and prevent any future drought.

In addition to the quarrying plan, the relief committee proposes to establish a motor highway between Sanyuan and Tungkwan and to start reclamation work in the Peshan region.

The local society decided to take up the matter of contribution towards the Shensi relief fund at its next meeting.

Yesterday's meeting also transacted some other important business.

SHANSI TUCHUN WIRES

A telegram from General Yen Shih-san, Tuchun of Shansi, expressing his thanks to the society for the $10,000 contributed towards the Shansi relief fund, was read.

Two other telegraphic messages Tsingsinghsien, Chihli, were also sent to the society by its agent in read.

The agent, Mr. Shen Tso-wu, described the conditions in this city as most pathetic. When he arrived, he stated, crowds of old and young sufferers gathered round him for help. They were eating grass and bark. He said he would send samples of their food to Shanghai by mail for exhibition.

The sum of $100 000 is needed in this city alone. He had already purchased 1,000 piculs of wheat and has established a poor house in the principal Buddhist Temple, capable of feeding 500 persons daily.

Although the inhabitants are not yet forced to sell their children, Mr. Shen stated, traffickers are active and many girls have been bought and shipped to other parts of China.

GATHERING DATA

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, Oct. 20.—The Famine Relief Distribution Board has inquired as to the situation from every mission station in Chihli, Shantung, Honan, Shansi and Shensi.

Up to the present detailed replies have been received from about a hundred districts, and these show that 10,624,000 people are affected.

No replies have yet been received from Shensi and many other districts, and these are likely considerably to swell the total.

The Tsinanfu correspondent of Peking and Tientsin Times states that at a conservative estimate over five million people in western Shantung alone will need two dollars monthly for five months in order to keep them alive.

He instances further definite cases in which whole families have committed suicide. In one case a family of six members tied themselves and family dog together and threw themselves into the Yellow River. All of them were drowned.

Peking, Oct. 20.—A mandate, issued yesterday evening, announces that any official found guilty of embezzling famine relief funds to

JAPANESE LAW LIKE INQUISITION CHARGES HANAI

Anonymous Letters Sufficient To Cause Arrest, Declares Eminent Lawyer

BRIBERY CASE HEARD

Former Governor Of Kyoto Defendant In Sensational Court Hearing

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Kyoto, October 19.—Dr. Hanai, who perhaps was the most powerful factor in securing the wholesale acquittal of the Koreans who, in the famous case of 1912, were charged with conspiracy to assassinate Governor-General Terauchi, is pleading on behalf of Mr. Kiuchi, ex-Governor of Kyoto, in the bribery case now proceeding.

CASE ANALYZED

A careful analysis of the whole case by Dr. Hanai demonstrated the fact that the Japanese Public Procurator possesses the power of arresting citizens upon the slightest evidence, such as anonymous letters, and of subjecting arrested citizens to the merciless process of a prolonged secret examination, in which the defendants are not allowed to call in the assistance of counsel.

Even prominent men like Mr. Kiuchi, who is a member of the House of Peers, and a brother-in-law of Viscount Kato, are powerless in the hands of the Procurator.

CALLS CASE FICTION

Dr. Hanai characterised the whole case as "a great fiction, of which the Public Procurator was the author."

Dr. Hanai also characterised the action of the Public Procurator in the present case as "militarism in judicial proceedings."

EDUCATORS ARRIVE TO ASSIST WORK OF ROCKEFELLER

Dr. Richard M. Pearce of Philadelphia, who is Director of Medical Education of the Rockefeller Foundation and in charge of all the medical work of the Foundation outside of the United States is in Shanghai on his way to Peking on a trip of inspection. He heads a large party connected with the Foundation most of whose members are to be added to the jeaching force of the Peking Union College and the pre-medical school that has been opened to prepare students for the college course.

MEMBERS OF PARTY

Those in the party are: Dr. and Mrs. Pearce and their son and daughter, Mr. John M. Pearce and Miss Agnes M. Pearce, and Mrs. V. R. Lovering, all of Philadelphia; Dr. O. H. Robertson and Mrs. Robertson of New York, Dr. W. H. Cruickshank and Mr. A. E. Severinghaus of New York, Mr. E. C. Scott of Ida, Kansas, and Dr. Andrew H. Woods, Mrs. Woods and family of New York.

AT UNION COLLEGE

Doctor Robertson is to be associate professor of medicine in Peking Union College. Doctor Cruickshank will become an instructor of physiology and Doctor Woods will become assistant professor of neurology and psychiatry. The party is leaving for Peking this week.

Other additions to the teaching staff of Rockefeller Foundation institutions at the Capital are to follow this party on succeeding boats from America.

Paotingfu Conference Yields To Wu's Demand For National Assembly

Chihli And Fengtien Militarists Want Wang Shih-chen To Succeed Li Shun In Kiangsu But Latter Declines On Account Of Age

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)

Peking, October 20.—A resolution moved by General Wu Pei-fu, China's idol of the hour, to convene a national assembly without delay, was adopted at the Paotingfu Military Conference today. The conference further decided to nominate General Wang Shih-chen, former Premier who has been living in retirement since the monarchical movement of Chang Hsun, as Military Governor of Kiangsu as well as Inspector-General of three Yangtsze Provinces, Kiangsu, Kiangsi and Anhui. It also nominated General Tsao to succeed General Li Shun as the Northern Chief Peace Delegate.

The conference was attended by General Tsao, General Wu, Mr. Yuan Nai-kwan; representing President Hsu, General Ching Hua; representing General Chang Tso-lin; General Tien Chung-yu, Tuchun of Shantung and a representative of General Lu Yung-hsiang of Chekiang. These were later joined by General Feng Yu-hsiang, the Christian General of Changteh, Hunan, who marched to Paotingfu upon the urgent insistence of General Wu Pei-fu.

ADVOCATES UNION

The conference further recommends the speedy unification of the nation and the adoption of immediate measure for the relief of the famine stricken people in North China.

President Hsu Shih-chang, while approving the appointment of General Wang Shih-chen, prefers to name Mr. Liang Shih-yi to the peace mission. General Wang Shih-chen, it is understood, would decline the appointment on account of his age.

HSIUNG IS LOYAL

Tuchun Hsiung Keh-wu of Szechuen, the Southern appointee, who recently united with the Peking appointee, General Liu Tseng-hou and repelled the Yunnanese expedition, announces that he has cancelled his independence and is now seeking a permanent status under Peking. Chengtu is now held by Kwangsi troops who announce that they would not fight either Hsiung or Liu if they are guaranteed their safe return to Kwangsi.

General Tang Chi-yao's reverses have made him amenable to the unification of the Central Government, but General Hsiung's desire to secure friendship from Peking is now embarrassing the Peking Government.

General Tang's delegates from Yunnanfu have arrived in Hongkong on their way to Peking.

TOKIO FIRM

Peking understands that the Tokio War Office intends to maintain forces in Hungchun until all danger of banditry and activities of Korean resolutionists and Russian Bolshevists are entirely passed.

An army of 6,000 picked troops of General Chang Tso-lin will arrive in Hungchun tomorrow. They will act independently of the Japanese.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 20.—According to the latest reports from Szechuen Generals Liu Tseng-hou and Hsiung Keh-wu have reached an understanding with the Szechuan Generals and also with the Yunnanese General Kou Ping-chun and the Kweichow General Wang Wen-hua and are acting against General Tang Chi-yao. The assembling of the Old Parliament at Chungking is, therefore, now impossible.

House Of Commons In Attempt To End Clash In British Coal Fields

Nearly Two Million Men To Be Out Of Employment By End Of Week Is Latest Estimate

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 19.—The question of a General Election is again being discussed. Some of the Miners' leaders declare that the Government intend soon to go to the country. Such a decision is, however, not likely to be taken yet but the development of sympathetic strikes may make an early appeal inevitable.

Unemployment is steadily increasing. It is estimated that there will be 1,750,000 unemployed by the week-end.

Meanwhile all eyes are centered on the debate in the House of Commons today, upon which present hopes of a settlement are concentrared.

The train services will be reduced by 10% on Thursday next and the reduction will steadily rise to 30%.

New York, October 18.—All coal supplies in Great Britain have been placed under Government control on account of the strike, says an Associated Press message from London.

New York, Oct. 18.—As the result of the coal strike, states an Associated Press telegram from London, the sovereign has dropped to $3.44 on buying orders to cover the shipment of American coal to Europe. The Continental exchanges are slightly less favorable to British money than they were last week.

Mr. John Robert Clynes, a well-known Labor leader, has expressed confidence that the strike would be settled with a week if both sides were brought together.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, secretary of the Railwaymen's Union, has made moderate statements to the effect that the railwaymen and transport workers are not disposed to take action.

MANY MINERS ARE SAVED WHEN MINE IS SET ON FIRE

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, October 19.—Further details of the colliery explosion at Tongshan, which resulted in the loss of over 400 lives, are made public in a statement, issued today by the Kailan administration to the Chinese and foreign press:

"On the afternoon of October 14, a most serious explosion occurred at Tongshan. The explosion set fire to the coal and mining timber. The gas and smoke produced percolated to other workings in which a large number of coolies were employed.

MANY ARE RESCUED

"Rescue work, directed by the Acting Engineer-in-Chief and foreign staff, was immediately started. The rescuers penetrated everywhere as soon as the circumstances permitted.

"One hundred and nineteen laborers were brought alive to the surface and resuscitated, but the administration regrets that the death roll was 422."

The statement further asserts that adequate precautions were taken in the mines, and suggests that the disaster was caused through coolies striking lights, as cigarettes were found in the pockets of some of the dead workers.

WARNED AGAINST GAS

In connection with foregoing details, the Shun Pao, the local Chinese newspaper, however, carries the report that smoke was discovered long before the explosion. Old miners said that it was some explosive gas and work should be suspended.

The engineer was informed. After the visit of the engineer to the scene, orders were given to dim the lights. The explosion occurred about ten minutes after the engineer's visit.

Military police are now patroling the mining regions.

HEALTH OFFICER ISSUES WARNING ABOUT ANTHRAX

Japanese Brushes Under Ban In Britain—One Fatality Reported Here

Following an outbreak of anthrax, traced to the use of brushes imported from Japan, that caused widespread alarm in England, an investigation, conducted by health authorities in Shanghai, reveals that one recent death of a foreigner from anthrax was caused by a shaving brush and the Health Officer in the current issue of the Municipal Gazette voices a warning against the use the brushes of Far Eastern origin.

OFFICIAL REPORT

The official report on the subject is as follows:

"A fatal foreign case of anthrax was reported in which the infection appears to have been derived from a shaving brush. The brush in question had no mark indicating its origin. Anthrax was not found on examination, but after using a new brush a few times it is to be expected that anthrax spores may have been washed away.

"Several such cases have during recent years been reported in Europe as certainly derived from shaving brushes made of horse hair from the Far East. This fatal case will serve as an indication of the danger locally, although the chance of being infected is remote, the present being the first foreign case of anthrax reported in Shanghai for many years.

"Shaving brushes should be avoided unless purchased from reputable firms and from good makers. Those of Far Eastern origin should be avoided. It would be advisable, after thorough washing with soap, to immerse any recently purchased shaving brush in 20 percent formalin in water for 24 hours."

French Consul Remains At Post In Vilna When Allied Missions Quit

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 19.—General Niessel has arrived at Warsaw, where he was received by the French mission, representatives of the Allied Missions, aides-de-camp of Marshal Pilsudski and representatives of the Polish military and civil authorities.

Paris, October 19.—The Allied civil and military missions who were at Vilna have left that town for Kovno, but the French Consul has remained at his post. It is announced that all is quiet at Vilna.

New York, Oct. 18.—An Associated Press despatch reports that the Poles have abandoned Minsk, and that the Bolsheviki have reoccupied the place.

London, October 19.—A Warsaw communique, dated October 17, chronicles a continued advance towards the Lettish frontier. The Polish detachments in the direction of Minsk are withdrawing to the fixed line. These detachments temporarily occupied the town, where they captured machine-guns. The latter report tends to confirm the Red claim that they have occupied Minsk.

Reuter learns that the note, handed to the Polish Government on Sunday by the French and British representatives at Warsaw, while firm and friendly, expresses the opinion that the Polish Government should completely disavow the seizure of Vilna and adds that, if the situation is not quickly cleared up, the French and British Governments will have to consider what further action might be necessary.

London, October 19.—Striking evidence of the ability of British shipbuilders to restore Great Britain's pre-war position as the world's greatest ship-producer is provided in Lloyd's Register shipbuilding returns for the quarter, ending September 30, which show that during the last 18 months, the tonnage being constructed in the United Kingdom increased from 2,500,000 tons to a record of nearly 3,750,000, while for the same period the tonnage being constructed in the United States had fallen from 4,000,000 to 1,750,000 tons.

Anfu Mission To Russia Cancelled

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 20.—With regard to the report from Helsingfors (published yesterday) that a Chinese military and diplomatic mission had arrived in Moscow for the purpose of opening normal political and trade relations between Russia and China, it is pointed out here that General Chang Hsi-lin's military mission to Moscow originated with the Frontier Defense Bureau and that the Government cancelled the mission after the downfall of the Anfuites. General Chang Hsi-lin thereupon requested the permission of the Government to remain in Russia to make a private investigation of the Russian situation. The Government did not reply to this request and General Chang, therefore, has no official status in Russia.

Consortium Ready To Meet China Half Way

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 18.—The New York correspondent of the Times states that the Chinese Consortium agreement reads:

"The national groups are of opinion that the interests of the Chinese people can in the existing circumstances be best served by co-operative action by the various banking groups, representing the investment interests of their respective countries, in procuring for the Chinese Government the capital necessary for its program of economic reconstruction and improved communications.

"With these objects in view the respective national groups are prepared to participate on equal terms in such undertakings as are calculated to assist China to establish her great public utilities and to these ends to welcome the co-operation of Chinese capital."

The Belgian group will have a one-ninth interest and the other groups a two-ninths interest each. It is understood that the Japanese reservations with regard to the Shantung Railway, like the American reservations with regard to the Grand Canal improvement project, are due to small technicalities of a purely ephemeral character.

In order to ensure the uninterrupted progress of the Consortium's wide-reaching plans for the development of China, the agreement provides for joint diplomatic action at Peking in the event of competing proposals for loans being attempted.

This well-known piece is staged at the Chinese theaters in Shanghai and the larger towns, during the seventh moon each year, and so is of special interest. The meeting is an open one for all members of the American Woman's Club, and newly arrived American women.

PEACE LEAGUE VIOLATED LAW, SAYS ATTORNEY

New York Brokers Involved In Activities Of Organisation

(Reuter's Service)

St. Louis, Oct. 18.—A score of confidential letters from the files of the League to Enforce Peace have been introduced into the record of the Senate Committee of Investigation into Campaign Expenditures. Several New York brokers are mentioned in these letters.

Mr. D. H. Hunt, attorney to the committee who investigated the activities of the League, has reported that in his estimation the officials of the League violated the Logan Act, passed on January 30, 1799, prohibiting American citizens from carrying on negotiations with foreign governments or their agents regarding disputes and controversies without the permission of the United States.

The Act involves a penalty of fines not exceeding $5,000 and imprisonment for a period of from six months to three years.

Oak Flooring WHY?

OAK FLOORING costs only a trifle more than a high-class carpet. A carpet, no matter how good the quality may be, wears out in a few years—an oak floor will last a life-time and longer.

OAK FLOORING is hygienic. It does not harbour dust and germs as does a carpet. It is easily cleaned and always looks new.

A WELL POLISHED oak floor is infinitely superior in appearance to an ordinary carpet.

TO INSTAL oak flooring costs from Tls. 25 to Tls. 40. per fong (100 sq. ft.), according to the design selected

WE SUPPLY OAK FOR FLOORING, WAINSCOTING, PANELLING, ETC., ETC., KILN-DRIED AND QUALITY GUARANTEED

We give all orders personal attention. After you have placed your order with us, the flooring will be laid and all work carried out under the personal supervision of a foreign expert of the Company. This supervision costs you nothing and we prefer to do this for you.

Insist that all lumber for flooring and panelling for interior work bears the "Three Pines" Trade Mark, and the letters "KD" signifying kiln-dried, thus ensuring its perfect quality, and suitability for the severe climatic conditions of China.

CONDITIONS IN SHANTUNG GRAPHICALLY DESCRIBED

(China Press Correspondence)

Tsinan, October 17.—Although $275,000 was distributed from Shanghai last week among the various provinces for famine relief, not one copper was sent to Shantung. The impression has gone abroad that Shantung is one of the fortunate provinces; but the exact opposite is true. Unfortunately Ma Liang's antics and his removal, the departure of Civil Governor Ch'u Ying-kuang and the dispute between the new Governor, Mr. Ch'i, and the Military Governor, Mr. T'ien, centered the people's attention upon politics. Meanwhile people in the north-western part of Shantung were actually starving and millions were hopelessly and helplessly, slowly but surely drifting towards mass starvation.

Gradually the awful facts of famine suffering did get a hearing, and the Provincial Assembly appointed the Public Famine Relief Committee, headed by Mr. Chang Kung-chih, second Vice-Speaker of the Provincial Assembly. This committee is holding a three-days' Garden Festival in the Public Park of Tsinan which will probably yield $1,500 for famine relief. Besides this the committee is trying to get under way the construction of some of the automobile roads proposed by ex-Governor Ch'u. It is fairly certain that work on the Tung Chang, Wu Ting road will be begun in the near future in order to give famine refugees an opportunity to earn a living till next spring.

COMMUNITY STARTS RELIEF

The foreign community of Tsinan, both missionaries and business men, are also organising for relief work. The North China Famine Relief Association has entrusted $5,000 to the Tsinan Y.M.C.A. for relief work, part of the fund to be used for supplying seed wheat to the needy districts. Rev. C. E. Scott and Rev. R. A. Torrey are in the field overseeing the distribution and the use of these funds, as well as $600 contributed by the Tsinan Red Cross. These two gentlemen, and Rev. H. G. Dildine of T'aian, Dr. F. F. Tucker and Rev. A. D. Heininger of Techow have rendered valuable services in furnishing careful reports on the conditions in the most sorely stricken sections.

Yu Ch'eng and P'ing Yuan north and west of the Yellow River are in the center of the worst districts. The foreign workers on the field report the following crop statistics for the present year (1920):

Percentage of crops harvested last spring and this fall:

Hsien.	Spring.	Fall.
Li Ch'eng	2/10	2/10
Chi Ho	1/10	4/10
Ch'ang Ch'ing	00	4/10
Yu Ch'eng	1/10	00
P'ing Yuan	00	00
Wan T'ai	1/10	3/10
Ling	00	00
Lin Ih	1/10	2/10
Shang Ho	00	2/10
Ch'i Yang	00	1/10
Nao	00	1/10

DISTRIBUTION OF SEED

As already indicated what of the available funds are to be used for furnishing seed wheat and the Tsinan workers are employing the following method for distributing the wheat where most needed:

(1) They go into the country to the villages and ask the "li fang," or village elders, for the names of the families in need.

(2) The field workers list the needy families as to name, number, amount of land owned or rented and the extent of the need.

(3) It is made clear to the "li fang," or village elders, that their reports will be checked at the hsien cities and that any misrepresentations will be reported immediately to the higher officials.

(4) If a family needs wheat for next year's crop, but is unable to purchase it, it is allowed to draw $1.00 of relief money per "mow" for seed wheat with the understanding that only one half of the land cultivated is eligible for such relief.

Furnishing seed wheat, however, is only a small part of the problem of averting an unspeakable calamity. Many famine victims need help now, and need it immediately. Some have already chosen suicide as preferable to indefinite suffering. In P'ing Yuan a Mr. Wang owned 300 "mow" of land on which he supported a family of eight people. To stave off starvation he slowly sold his land bit after bit. When the land was gone, he sold the farm animals, many of which were almost given away. When the proceeds of these sales had disappeared, he carried the family bedding to a pawn shop.

ENTIRE FAMILY SUICIDES

On this bedding he realised 600 cash, and that was the "last straw which broke the camel's back." With his last coppers Mr. Wang bought some arsenic which he secretly mixed in the family porridge to end their suffering. Today the eight lie buried in one grave. In another place an entire family of six tied themselves and their family dog together and threw themselves into the Yellow River in order to end the horror. At Ling Hsien some of the few remaining wells are unusable, because the poorest parents, being unable to sell their children, threw the little ones into the wells rather than see them starve.

The awful tragedy is intensified by the lack of fuel, to cook the little food available. Innumerable buildings, among them many a home, have been torn down to furnish fire wood. Tens of thousands are compelled to drink unboiled water and raw or half cooked food with the result that bowel troubles are everywhere prevalent.

The food that these famine victims are obliged to eat beggars description. One of the Techow workers reports that the people who have alfalfa to eat consider themselves most fortunate. In the Lao Chia Chuang district many are living on millet chaff mixed with water. This chaff costs fifty cash a "chin;" but in another few weeks the supply of even this luxury will be exhausted.

$10,000,000 NEEDED

In some sections the present calamity is the accumulated result of three or four cropless years. Take Chu Ch'eng as an example. In 1917 floods destroyed the crops; in 1918 it was the same story; in 1919 grasshoppers harvested the grain and in 1920 droughts prevented a crop. Unless something far vaster than anything yet undertaken is inaugurated soon, it will be folly to furnish wheat, because thousands of the recipients will be dead long before their wheat will be ready to harvest. Conservative estimates indicate that in Shantung alone 5,000,000 people will need $2 a month for five months in order to keep alive.

Send Subscriptions For Famine Relief To These Officials

Subscriptions and gifts to afford relief to the famine sufferers may be made to any of the four honorary treasurers who have been chosen to act for the famine relief organisation formed here. These are:

Mr. Sung Han-chang, The Bank of China.

Mr. Fu Siao-en, The Commercial Bank of China.

Mr. William Morris, The British American Tobacco Company.

Mr. G. H. Stitt, The Hongkong and Shanghai Bank.

Donations of food and clothing also will be received at the headquarters of the relief association at No. 22 The Bund, the former German Club.

Citizen Relief Board Organised At Ningpo

(China Press Correspondence)

Ningpo, Oct. 16.—At a meeting of citizens of Ningpo last Thursday, Oct. 14, a Citizens' Committee for Famine Relief was organised with 13 officers which are to comprise the Executive Committee of the larger committee. The officers elected are as follows:

Hon. Chairman—Mr. Wang Yi-tse, Mr. Davidson, Ningpo Tao-yin, H. B. M. Consul.

Chairman—Mr. M. Thomas Tchou.

Vice-chairman—Rev. T. Gaunt.

Secretaries—Mr. T. K. Van, Corresponding Secretary; Rev. E. M. Smith, English Secretary; Mr. S. D. Wang, Recording Secretary.

Treasurers—Mr. M. T. Ve, (Ningpo Commercial Bank); Rev. F. R. Millican; Mr. S. T. Chu, (Ningpo Tsing-hwa Co).

Propaganda Committee—Mr. H. Redfern; Mr. Y. G. Hu; Mr. P. S. Wang.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Besides these officers there were elected or appointed captains or secretaries of teams representing the different organisations in Ningpo. The teams were divided as follows:

1.—Teachers Club and Middle Schools.
2.—Chinese Business Men.
3.—Foreign Business Men.
4.—Educational Association and Primary Schools.
5.—Christian Fellowship Club, and Women's Benefit Club.
6.—Churches and Missions.
7.—Manufacturies.
8.—Doctors.
9.—Lawyers.

It was decided to make the campaign short believing that the relief that was needed was needed immediately. Therefore the time for ending the local campaign was set for the end of this month. An attempt will be made to give everyone an opportunity to make pledges in this time either to make one payment or a pledge of monthly payments as long as funds are needed.

DISCUSS DISTRIBUTION

The meeting also discussed the extent to which the funds collected would be used for relief and the proportionate amount in the different localities. Many expressed the idea that Ningpo's greatest responsibility lay toward the flood sufferers in Wenchow and Taichow. It was left until a later date to decide definitely as to the disposition of the funds.

At the meeting of the Executive Committee this afternoon among other matters which were decided upon the Committee decided on places throughout the city where payments could be made to be turned in later to the Committee's treasurers. The campaign is to start on Monday, October 18.

London, October 19.—Major-General Sir Charles Townshend announces that his retirement from the Army has been accepted.

Harding Replies To Inquiry By Wilson

(Reuter's Service)

Marion, Ohio, October 18.—Replying to President Wilson's inquiry, Senator Harding wrote that, although France had sent a spokesman to him informally asking that America should lead the way for an association of nations, the incident did not involve the French Government, or any violation of international proprieties. His words could not be construed to say that the French Government had sent any one.

Regarding the alleged impropriety of foreign nations approaching private citizens, Senator Harding pointed out that he was a member of the Foreign Relations Committee and a presidential candidate, and that the informal expression was made to him in person rather more than to the citizens generally.

A PRESENT FROM NATURE

Moreover, what is Nature? It is that from which all creation springs. When things lose this Principle they die: when they receive it they are born. If man, in acting, run counter to it, they fail, if they comply with it, they succeed. Wherefore drop your silly prejudices and turn to Nature. From among its lofty mountains, covered with eternal snow, it offers you its product:—A TIBETAN FOX SKIN. Send $25.—(Chinese Post Office Money Order) to MR. On Making Sure

There is nothing like making sure where one's health is concerned. Good health is the best guarantee that Life shall be a success. Now it is well-known that digestive disorders are the cause of more cases of ill-health than any other class of ailment. The digestive system is so extensive, so complex and so hard-worked, that its liability to derangement is not astonishing. Happily, however, many digestive ailments can be easily remedied. Happily, too, many digestions need never go wrong. You can make reasonably sure that your digestion will not fail you, even under trying conditions, if you get into the excellent way of taking Beecham's Pills. This "Wonderful Medicine"—as it has been called—does really work wonders with the digestive system. Beecham's Pills impart tone to the stomach, regulate the action of the liver and kidneys and gently stimulate the bowels into healthy activity. Get into the habit of making sure. Have recourse to Beecham's Pills at the first sign of digestive trouble. Make sure of your health by taking

Beecham's Pills.

Good Morning!

I See You Are Planning a Department Store

Very nice business section, too. Lots of people will come in, and all want to be comfortable while they make their purchases. Will your roof protect them from bad weather? Is it absolutely water-proof? Heat-retarding? Sanitary? Durable?

The store keeper caters to customers' good will, so does the architectural profession. His merchandise and store service must be inviting, so must your roofing material be dependable.

It is a simple matter to make the roof dependable if you call up experienced roofing to solve your problem.

AMUNDSEN IS CAUGHT IN ICE AT CAPE SERGE

Swedish Explorer Expects His Expedition To Be Delayed Year

(Reuter's Service)

New York, October 18.—The New York Tribune's Seattle correspondent reports the arrival of the schooner Kamchatka, whose captain declared that the Swedish explorer, Captain Amundsen, cabled on August 7, that he had been trapped in an icepack at Cape Serge. His opinion is that he will probably be delayed a year, unless the ship has been extracted in the meantime.

Captain Amundsen was accompanied by three men and one woman, the latter an Eskimo seamstress.

RUSSIAN QUINTET TO GIVE CONCERT

Messrs. S. L. and L. Skidelsky, Harbin merchants who are actively interested in the famine relief work in the north, and have recently sent several carloads of grain and other foodstuffs to the famine areas, have recently engaged the services of one of the most famous musical organisations that has come out of Russia, to go on a tour of Japan, China and the Philippine Islands, giving concerts in aid of the North China Famine Relief Fund. The entire expenses of this tour are borne by the Messrs. Skidelsky, so that all the receipts from their concerts go into the Famine Fund.

Ms. Esselevitch, the Messrs. Skidelsky's representative, has just arrived in Shanghai and concluded arrangements for a concert to be given in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening, November 3. The full program will be published later. Tickets will be the usual prices, $3.00, $2.00 and $1.00.

The following gentlemen comprise the quintet:

First Violin, A. Gilersberg; Second Violin, A. Konchester; Viola, T. Podushka; Cello, T. Shevtzoff; Piano, T. Gilersberg.

Chinese Volunteers Hold Anniversary

Prizes for the annual rifle meeting, 65 service certificates and 11 efficiency certificates were distributed at the celebration for the 14th anniversary of the Chinese Company, Shanghai Voluntee Corps, held at the Chinese Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

In the absence of Captain G Grayrigge, Lieut. T. A. Zee presided at the meeting. The principal speakers were Lieut. B. Y Woo and Mr. Chu Lan-fong, representing Mr. Yuan Hung-chi president of the Chinese Volunteer Association. Mr. Chu Pao-san, representing Mr. C. C. Nieh the chairman of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, presented the certificates and prizes to the successful members.

Price Of Lumber Still On Upgrade

The lumber market has stiffened in the past two weeks following the big slump in the price of Oregon pine from Tls. 65 per thousand feet to Tls. 45 that hit many dealers, beginning in the middle of August. The price of Tls. 45 per thousand apparently marked the bottom of the slump for after rallying and advancing to Tls. 47.50, notices were issued to the trade yesterday by the China Import and Export Lumber Company quoting a price as from October 20 of Tls. 50 per thousand against cash of delivery.

HOW DOCTORS KEEP WELL

Rules They Recommend and Follow.

"Eat enough food, but never too much at any one meal; keep the windows of your living rooms open day and night; take as much exercise as you can in the open air; and be careful to keep your blood in good condition." These are the simple rules of life which most doctors recommend and follow, and which enable them to keep in good health although constantly working in the midst of infection and disease.

The state of the blood is of the first importance, and many men and women know from experience that Dr. Williams' pink pills, the world-renowned blood and nerve tonic, are all that is necessary to keep the blood rich and red and in fit condition to safe-guard the system against ill-health. These pills act directly on the blood, they purify and enrich the blood, and make blood at every dose. It is in this way that they have cured throughout the world during the past thirty years almost countless thousands of cases of anaemia, general debility, indigestion, nervous weakness, rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, skin complaints. They are known by women as being the one great remedy for the special ailments of their sex.

If you are run-down, or if you are suffering from any form of ill-health due to vitiated blood or disordered nerves give Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people a trial at once and see how quickly improvement will follow. They are obtainable from dealers everywhere, or at $1.50 the bottle, $8 for 6 bottles, post free, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Terrible Wound from Abdomen to Hip

Our portrait is of Mrs. M. MACE, of 97, Brettell Lane, Stourbridge England, who writes:

"For 8 years I suffered with a terrible wound stretching from the abdomen to the right hip; during that time I tried doctors' and patent medicines innumerable, but without success. At length I was persuaded to try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and after taking the first bottle began to see an improvement, which has continued, with the result that my wound is healed, and I now have no pain." In a further recent letter Mrs. Mace writes: "I am happy to say that there has been no recurrence of my complaint and consider my case a very satisfactory cure."

CONDUCTED BY DUDLEY BURROWS

MIDDLE WEST FOOTBALL TEAMS TO BE CAPTAINED LARGELY BY MEN IN LINE

Backfield Only Secures One Leadership Out Of Ten Among Conference Organisations—Six Big Elevens To Be Commanded By Tackles

By Walter Eckersall

Chicago, September 18.—When Western Conference football squads start practice on Wednesday for the opening games, most of which will be played early next month, six of the elevens will be led by warriors who play the tackle positions, two by wing players, one by a center, and the other by a quarter-back.

In former years it usually has been the case for backfield players to be leaders, because they were in better positions to direct their men. It also has been customary to make different players field captains when the honor had been bestowed upon a lineman, who really is in no position to figure how to place his men to meet a complex offense.

TACKLE POSITION IMPORTANT

The tackle position now is one of the most important on a football team. Most any coach would be satisfied with his defense if he had a good pair of intelligent tackles. In these days of football, the great majority of plays are sent just outside the last men on the line, and the tackles play an important part in stopping these formations.

Chicago's leaders will be C. C. Jackson, a tackle of no mean ability. Although he was injured last year and unable to play up to standard, he was considered one of the best players on the squad. He is a fast, hard charger who is hard to put out of plays. The Maroons, as most every one knows, will be coached by A. A. Stagg.

F. J. Birk, a hard working tackle, will lead the Purdue eleven. The Boilermaker played good football last year and with a season's experience should be a valuable man for the Lafayette team. Purdue will be coached by Arthur ("Butch") Scanlon.

DEPLER CAPTAINS ILLINOIS

John Depler, one of the best centers developed in the West in recent years, will pilot the champion Illinois eleven. The Orange and Blue leader was a tower of strength to his team last year and will be even better this year. He is an accurate passer, one of the type who makes sure of his pass first, and then takes care of his opponent. Robert Zuppke will again have charge of football at Urbana.

Iowa will have for its leader W. S. ("Red") Kelley, a quarter-back of possibilities. Kelley did not play in all of Iowa's games last year because of a mid-season switch which resulted in one of the Devine brothers playing quarter-back. Kelly is a player with plenty of enthusiasm and should be able to handle the position in excellent fashion this year. Howard Jones will be the coach.

GOETZ HEADS MICHIGAN

Angue Goetz, who performed so creditably for Michigan last year at tackle, will again lead the Wolverine eleven. Goetz is a player of ability, but had little support last year. He has a thorough knowledge of football and will be a factor in Michigan's games this fall. Fielding H. Yost will again direct the fortunes of Michigan football.

Trig Johnson, a tackle who was one of the mainstays on the Minnesota rush line last year, will lead the Gopher eleven. Johnson should be one of the best forwards in the West this season, considering the brand of football he played the latter part of last autumn. He is an active forward who has a thorough knowledge of the game. Dr. Harry Williams will again be in charge of the coaching staff.

Wisconsin's team will be led by F. L. Weston, who was rated one of the best ends in the country last year. This player has an uncanny knack of catching forward passes, while his other sterling qualities should make him a valuable man for the Badgers this year. Wisconsin will again be coached by John Richards.

HUFFMAN CAPTAINS OHIO

I. M. Huffman, a tackle, has been chosen captain of the Ohio State eleven. Although not a flashy player, Huffman was considered one of the most reliable players in the Buckeye forward line last year. With the experience of last year's hard games he should be of great value this year. Dr. Jack Wilce will again direct the Buckeye football situation.

Northwestern will have as its leader John F. Daley, an end of ability. The Purple warrior was used at tackle and end last year, but his natural position is at end. Besides being a reliable player in his position, he is a field goal kicker of ability. Elmer McDevitt, a former Yale player, has succeeded Charley Bachman as coach of the Purple team.

E. C. Risley, a tackle, will lead Indiana. Risley was a reliable player last year and will be even better this year. E. O. Stiehm will be in charge of the team.

NOTRE DAME LOOKS GOOD

Of the non-conference elements in the Central West, which will command just as much interest as the Big Ten elevens, Notre Dame's team will be captained by F. Coughlin, a tackle. This player was rated highly among the forwards of the West last season, and will bear watching by Notre Dame's opponents this year. Knute Rockne will again coach football at the Indiana institution.

Nebraska, which will engage in two important intersectional struggles, with Rutgers and Penn State, will be led by William Day, a center. Henry Schulte, the former Michigan player, will be the main coach.

BASEBALL MEN URGE COMPLETE REORGANISATION

Eleven Big-League Clubs Vote For Outside Control And Many Other Changes

(Reuter's Service)

Chicago, October 18.—A meeting of representatives of all National League baseball clubs and three American League clubs has passed a resolution favoring the abrogation of the national agreement between professional clubs, the complete reorganisation of baseball, the abolition of the national commission, and the establishment of a civilian tribunal of three men, not financially interested in the game, which should have complete control.

The meeting further decided to notify the clubs not represented that they must signify their willingness to join by November 1; otherwise the clubs will be reformed without them. The American League clubs represented were Chicago, New York and Boston.

This startling announcement comes as a result of the recent exposures of chicanery on the part of players in the employ of the Chicago (American) club, several of whom are now under indictment, following confessions that they "sold out" to a clique of gamblers in the 1919 World's Series games with Cincinnati.

President John A. Heydler, of the National League, announced sometime ago that he intended to plead for the complete reorganisation of baseball; also for a Federal law making gambling on baseball games a penitentiary offense.

With baseball in the hands of such men as Generals Pershing and Wood, William G. McAdoo and A. Mitchell Palmer (whose names have been suggested) it is believed that plans could be perfected which would eliminate any further possibility of fraud or scandal in connection with the game.

Jones And Evans Beat Ray And Vardon On Links 10 Down And 9 To Play

Americans Administer Crushing Defeat To British Golfing Stars In Brilliant Foursome On Morris County Course—Ray Describes The Match

BY EDWARD RAY

New York, Sept. 19.—Ten down and nine to play. That tells the story of our defeat over the course of the Morris County Golf Club, yesterday. The victors were Chick Evans and Bobbie Jones and they played great golf.

The impression should not go out that Harry Vardon and I played poorly. They beat us fairly enough by their own brilliant play. They were six up at the end of the first eighteen holes Jones doing the bulk of the work, but the finishing touches were applied by that freak putter, owned and controlled by Chick Evans. I have been told that Evans is weak on the green, but he was not weak yesterday.

NO TROUBLE NOW

There may have been a time when your new amateur champion was lacking in ability to guide the temperamental little globe into the hole, but I feel safe in saying that that time has gone by. Too many times have Harry Vardon and I played against Mr. Evans on this tour to be guilty of holding his putting ability lightly.

If he has been weak in this detail, it is high time for him to rejoice in having overcome a weakness. With his new-found confidence and consequent ability on the putting green and his perfect iron play, one would not be making a statement that I would account a rash one to say that Charles Evans jr., is the most finished golfer in the United States.

PRAISE FOR JONES

But the coming golfer is this astounding lad, Bobbie Jones. Even now he needs only one factor to give him a place with the best. That one need is experience, and he is getting experience and as speedily as it can be obtained.

I say, as my veteran partner has said of Jones: "He is a golfer without all apparent fault." As to his temperament I can say nothing. As far as I have observed in our rather meagre acquaintanceship on the links, his attitude is admirable.

I have no excuses to offer for either my partner of myself with regard to our severe drubbing yesterday. We have not suffered such a beating since we were youngsters, but the truth is that we are not nearly so ashamed of this preponderant score against us as we have been of unearned victories in our careering about together.

The play of Jones alone in the morning would have beaten us by three holes. Together they turned in a best ball medal of 67, which was seven strokes better than our best score. It was seven strokes better because of an eagle 3 Jones made on the ninth hole, and wierd play by Vardon and me on the sixth, where they were two strokes better for the hole than we were.

EVANS OPENS UP

Evans began his extraordinary play at the third hole in the afternoon, with a par 3. The next three holes he made with birdie 3 and the eighth with a birdie 4. Little chance Vardon and I had against this sort of thing. On the 500-yard eleventh hole he got another birdie score, and still another on the short fifteenth.

Perhaps we were not playing normally. It may be that we have played so much golf that we are not thoroughly keen. It is more likely, if we were not playing up to our standard game, that both Vardon and I were a bit off yesterday, for we certainly have not become stale. But none of these potential excuses is necessary. We have played few or no matches in our tour of America with the skill and fervor we would have required to beat Evans and Jones yesterday.

VARDON'S WEAKNESS

The chief fault with Vardon's game yesterday was his inability to keep on the fairways, and his inability to keep out of the uncomfortable places. That is unusual for Vardon. His best game is his play to the greens and it is well known that he has the blessed knack of keeping in any part of the fairway that he chooses. There times yesterday he drove out of bounds. But he was putting well. His successful work on the greens was not enough to make up for his wildness.

I was off the course a goodly part of my time too. That is not surprising, I suppose. I have always had my share of recovery shots to make.

We play today over the course of the Englewood Golf Club, Englewood, N. J.

TWO GOOD MEN JOIN SHANGHAI CRICKET TEAM

Cobb And Piercey Will Go With Local Team In Quest Of Honors

Messrs. P. H. Cobb and A. E. Piercey, prominent Shanghai cricketers, have been selected as the "key" members of the cricket team which will leave for Hongkong on October 31, to engage in a three-cornered round-robin tournament with the representatives of the Crown Colony and Singapore, for the Far Eastern championship.

This news will be hailed with acclaim by devotees of cricket in and around the Settlement, in view of the fact that Mr. Cobb is regarded as a bowler of the first class; while Mr. Piercey, by virtue of his splendid performances during the recent Hankow Interport match, has proved himself to be a batsmen of no mean ability.

A sincere effort was made to persuade Mr. S. M. Billings to accompany the Shanghai team to Hongkong—but the "bowler par excellence" has not been able, up to the present time, to see his way clear to take the time necessary for the trip.

While this is unfortunate, the fact remains that the Shanghai organisation will be thoroughly representative, and may be counted upon to give a good account of itself in the forthcoming tri-port championships.

NAVY HAPPY OVER CREW'S OLYMPIC WIN

'Greatest Event In History Of Academy,' Is Verdict

Annapolis, Md., September 30.—The victory of the Naval Academy eight in the finals of the Olympic races at Antwerp is regarded here as the supreme athletic achievement in the history of athletics at the institution. The members of the naval contingent here are jubilant, and the oarsmen, with Coach Glendon and others with them, will be given a great reception when they return. The 800 members of the new fourth class, the only midshipmen here, received their first thrill from a big naval victory when they heard the news.

Prospects are bright for a continuance of aquatic honors. Coach Dick Glendon has two more years at the academy under his present contract and is likely to stay for many more.

Only two regulars, Capt. Graves, No. 2, and Jacomimi, bow, will be lost by graduation. Edward H. Moore of Ringgold, Va., No. 4, is the only first class man next year, and is booked for crew captain. The following have two more years of rowing:

Jordan, No. 3; Sanborn, No. 5; Johnston, No. 6; Gallagher, No. 7; King, stroke, and Clark, coxswain. Nearly all of the other members of the Olympic squad have two or three more years at the academy.

Members of the rowing party reached this country about September 20, and the midshipmen are planning a big celebration when their crew arrives "home" at Annapolis next week.

DEMPSEY TELLS OF MEETING WITH CARPENTIER IN RING; BUT THEY DIDN'T FIGHT

"Our Jack" And "Their Georges" Exchange Pleasantries When Introduced In Arena—"Fine Chap," Says Dempsey—"Voila!" Says Carpentier

By Jack Dempsey
(Heavyweight Champion Of The World)

Madison Square Garden, Sept. 17.—What a wonderful night it has been for me; also, what a great occasion for the citizens of this great Empire State.

Boxing has come back in New York State, and from the wonderful start should become more popular than its friends ever dreamed.

A really sincere ovation was given to me by a great crowd, and I have met Georges Carpentier face to face.

Say, the French boy seems like an awfully likable chap. His physical makeup surprised me. The stories I'd read about him gave me the idea that I was much bigger than the Frenchman in every way. But as we stood face to face—and we were of equal size—he seemed just as tall as I am, and certainly didn't look frail, or actor-like. He seems every inch the fighter that the French claim he is.

I got a feel of that boy's arm, and it's like a steel bar. He's got big hands, too. That's another fighting asset. He is a mighty graceful fellow, and that means speed. Those who claim that he's a marvel afoot probably have it right, for he certainly sized up that way to me.

GOT ON FAMOUSLY

Georges and I got along famously tonight. The camera fellows wanted us to talk and we did. Georges talked French and I talked American—and we agreed perfectly. The Frenchman looks like a game one, too. I can tell pretty well about whether a fellow will stand the gaff by looking in his eyes. I looked and he looked back in a way that told me he's got the fighting goods.

Nice fellow, Georges; mighty nice, and I'm going to think that way about him until the day comes when we meet for the world's championship. And then—well, the rules of the pugilistic game provide that men must forget their friendships and their likes when the battle gong rings, and I live up to the rules.

The fact that the good old boxing game is legalised here once again means that very soon I am to get the chance to show a New York crowd that I've improved a little, at least, since I fought here four years ago.

CHANGE LINCE 1916

I came here in 1916 an unknown—pretty much of a hick as far as knowledge of Eastern customs were concerned—and looking for fights. I got 'em, three altogether, and I proved in all of them that I had gameness and a punch. I didn't have much else.

New York didn't treat me very gently in 1916, but the best thing that ever happened to me was that

Dempsey-Brennan Bout Is Postponed

Alas! It seems that we are not to have reports on that Dempsey-Brennan contest in New York, after all.

'Cause why? 'Cause there ain't goin' to be no Dempsey-Brennan contest; at least, not until next month, according to the most recent advices from the States.

The newly-formed New York State Boxing Commission, it seems, was a little "leary" of having too big an attraction during the early workings of the Walker Law, which brought boxing back to the Empire State after three years.

That was one of the reasons why Carpentier and Levinsky fought over in Jersey. Dempsey and Brennan may do likewise. They were scheduled to box 15 rounds last evening.

No Defense

No Defense. By Sir Gilbert Parker. Illustrated. J. B. Lippincott Company

Every now and then it happens that some author of established reputation surprises his public with a book so unlike the sort of thing they have learned to expect from him that they find difficulty in believing that it was actually he, and no other, who wrote it. The realist perhaps turns romancer, the writer whose name is known only in connection with the wildest of wild Western tales suddenly produces a psychological novel. But there is yet another way in which an author of position and reputation can surprise his readers; and that is by turning out a book which, while showing no deviation from his habitual field of realism or romance, is lacking in the qualities which have won well-merited praise for his earlier work. And it must be regretfully admitted that it is this very unpleasant kind of surprise which "No Defense" brings to the admirers of Sir Gilbert Parker, whose work it has so often been our very agreeable duty to applaud.

For, to judge from internal evidence, "No Defense" was written simply and solely in order that it might eventually be turned into a motion picture, with little or no regard for literary excellence. From first to last, the book is carelessly written, and the tale is devoid of atmosphere, while the dialogue reveals very little effort to keep the speech of the different persons in character. Neither the hero, the heroine nor any one of the minor members of the dramatic personae is ever a real flesh-and-blood human being, even for the space of a single instant, while the plot piles coincidence upon coincidence, improbability upon improbability.

But before Noreen makes her belated confession, Dyck Calhoun has gone through any number of adventures, related in a listless way, which deprives them of any thrill or excitement. An Irish gentleman, loyal to the King, he has fallen in love with marvelously beautiful Sheila Llyn, whose mother had divorced her husband, soon after the girl's birth, and resumed her maiden name of Llyn. This divorced husband was one Erris Boyne, a man of the worst possible type. Dyck Calhoun met Boyne, not knowing him to be the father of Sheila, and remained ignorant of his identity.

Boyne was a traitor, pledged to aid France, with which England was then at war, and, plying Dyck with drugged wine, he tried to lure him from his allegiance. Of course he failed in this. While Dyck was still in a stupor, Boyne's second wife, Noreen, who was not a lady, and whom he had treated as badly as he had his first, crept into the little room in the Dublin inn through a secret back entrance and drove a knife into her husband's heart. Then, leaving him dead, she withdrew the knife and stole away. Dyck, found alone with the body, was arrested and charged with the murder of which he was himself not sure that he was not guilty. Then, discovering that the dead man was Sheila's father, he refused to reveal the truth about his treachery. Instead, he allowed his own name to be disgraced, and, incidentally, broke his father's heart.

Sent to prison for eight years, he was released at the end of four, almost penniless and all but friendless. With his faithful servant, Michael Clones, he enlisted in the navy and took part in the mutiny of the Nore, the account of which is by all odds the most interesting thing in the book. Then seeing that the mutiny was doomed to failure and having been chosen, by vote of his shipmates, commander of the man of war Ariadne, he sailed away from the other mutinous ships to join the West Indian fleet, arriving just in time to take part in a battle and save the day for England. Allowed to go free in Jamaica, as a reward for this service, an accommodating adventurer invited him to join in the search for a treasure ship sunk off the coast of Haiti. They found the ship and the treasure and Dyck thereby became a rich man. He bought a plantation and would have been successful in every way had it not been for the enmity of the Governor of the island, Lord Mallow, whom he had once wounded in a duel.

Sheila, who had always refused to believe in Dyck's guilt, inherited the splendid estates of an uncle who had settled in Virginia, prospered and fought on the Colonial side during the American Revolution. This same uncle had been so obliging as to own a plantation in Jamaica, and thither Sheila presently came. Of course Lord Mallow fell in love with her; but she remained faithful to Dyck, even though she realised that she could not possibly marry the man who had perhaps killed her father. So there was plenty of trouble for them both before Dyck succeeded in rescuing everything and everybody, Sheila and her mother included, during a rising of the free negroes, or Maroons, who had threatened to massacre all the white inhabitants of the island.

IN THE ONYX LOBBY

In The Onyx Lobby. By Carolyn Wells. George H. Doran Company.

Among writers of popular detective novels Carolyn Wells has earned an extremely important place. The imaginative power of her work is not as fine as that of some of her contemporaries, and in point of skill she must take second place to such writers as Louis Tracy and Melville Davison Post, but her powers of piecing together an apparently insoluble mystery and then with a mere twist unraveling the whole thing is admirable. She has perfected a formula, a desirable thing among fictioneers of the detective-mystery school, and the public will find it quite adequate to keep them guessing.

In her latest novel, "In the Onyx Lobby," she outlines what she considers to be the proper detective story in a speech put into the mouth of one of her characters. Moore, the night elevator man of The Campanile apartments, says: "To me, a good detective story is not the one that keeps you guessing, nor the one that keeps you in fearful suspense as to the outcome, but the one that gives you a chance to solve the riddle yourself. The one that puts all the cards on the table, and gives you a chance at it."

"In the Onyx Lobby" is not by any means the best detective yarn that Miss Wells's prolific pen has produced, but it is, on the whole, decidedly entertaining. The puzzle concerns the criminal who killed Sir Herbert Binney, of Binney's Buns, in the lobby of The Campanile apartments late at night. Sir Herbert is pretty much of a roisterer, fond of the company of chorus girls and liable to make enemies among them. Naturally it is easy to put suspicion on some of these girls, and Miss Wells manages to tangle a couple of them up in the web rather successfully.

Some of the humor of the book, and there is too much of an attempt at lightness throughout, is rather elephantine. This is rather peculiar, in view of the fact that Miss Wells possesses a fully developed sense of humor and some of her light verse is quite delectable. But, if the reader chooses to overlook this, he cannot do better than to get a copy of "In the Onyx Lobby" for an extremely pleasurable hour after dinner.

GLEN OF THE HIGH NORTH

Glen Of The High North. By H. A. Cody. George H. Doran Company.

A Commonplace, crudely written melodrama of the most obvious motion-picture type is H. A. Cody's story called "Glen of the High North." The hero, Tom Reynolds, is a priggish young man high in the favor of the editor of a Vancouver newspaper, The Telegram and Evening News. This editor, Andrew Harmon, advises his young protege to go forth and look for a certain Henry Redmond, a rich man who had disappeared some fifteen years before the date at which the story opens, taking his little daughter with him and leaving behind him a mysterious message. Two villains, "men in whose bosoms no feeling of pity or sympathy dwelt" and who like our friend the enterprising burglar, are given to the laying of "nefarious plans," help the hero and the heroine to make due display of their courage, and one of them almost induces some impetuous miners to lynch Tom Reynolds by accusing him of the murder of Frontier Sampson. But Sampson appears alive and well, and his identity, which has been evident from the first to the reader, though his own daughter the heroine, fails to divine it, is presently revealed.

SOUTH SEA FOAM

South Sea Foam. By A. Safroni-Middleton. George H. Doran Company.

In this book we find recorded some of the experiences and journeyings of a modern troubadour, who, violin in hand, fiddled his way through the South Sea islands, playing "old Sunday-school hymns on a fiddle before ex-cannibal chiefs," and who was received with open arms "where a white man would have been, in the ordinary way, clubbed, or doped with a mixture of kava and South Sea strychnine for intruding on a sacred festival." Several legends—star-myths, creation myths, tales of how the first coconuts were made and the first idol came to be adored—are scattered through the volume, fascinating bits of that poetry which seems to be an inherent part of the childhood of nearly every—perhaps we might say of every—race. Much of the same delicate charm of fantasy which belongs to so many of the Hindu stories told us by F. W. Bain distinguishes, also, those tales of the isles in the far seas.

But, besides the myths, the folklore and the poetry, the volume contains adventures in abundance. Mr. Safroni-Middleton himself declares that he wears a pair of inherited rose-tinted spectacles, and is the possessor of a roaming spirit strong enough to shatter "all my ambitions over Kings, Queens, missionaries, Court appointments and salaries." When to these is added a thirst for romance and a pronounced tendency to go ahead and let the consequences take care of themselves, the combination is one certain to attract adventures as a magnet does iron. So we read of how the author helped his friend O'Hara to abduct a South Sea princess, visited a heathen monastery, where he saw indescribable things; was made "taboo," and narrowly escaped with his life; "played the fiddle under a palm tree outside a barbarian Queen's royal seraglio," and attended a Mohammedan banquet. But, interesting as are all these and the many other adventures related in this fascinating book, perhaps the two most interesting are the episodes of the "Charity Organisation" which sheltered fugitives from the law, and that of "Yoraka's Daughter"—the white girl whose father had turned barbarian chief and cannibal.

CITY OF ENDLESS NIGHT

City Of Endless Night. By Milo Hastings. New York: Dodd Mead and Co.

Eagerly scanning the authors and titles of half a dozen volumes with the reviewer's faint but perennial hope of finding among them one book, the reading of which would not be just work, we paused for a second glance at Milo Hastings' "City of Endless Night," described by its publishers as "a tale of the future." We read the "blurb" on the book's paper jacket, glanced with awakened curiosity at a random page or two, titled back our chair—and finished the book at a single reading.

In his "City of Endless Nights" Mr. Hastings has pictured the world as his imagination conceives it might possibly be in the year 2041. Berlin is the city named in the title of the book. This last stronghold of Germans and of German Kultur is an entirely roofed-in city of sixty levels, sheltering within its catacombs three hundred million human ants, the one black spot remaining on a map otherwise bright with the gold symbolic of the millennial democracy of the world state. For a hundred years, figured backward from the time of the story's opening, Berlin has has been under siege by the armies of the united world. But the war has come to a deadlock; the forces of offense and defense are equally balanced.

Into the swarming beehive of Berlin an American chemist succeeds in penetrating. Through this man's eyes we see the life within Berlin that is the logical development of that Kultur which recognises no good but efficiency and has no priesthood other than its scientists. The government of Berlin is described as "Imperialistic Socialism," a form of rule as farcical as its paradoxical names implies. The Blond Labor Brutes, the producers of the community, who go on strike when their hours are shortened, "own" Berlin. They simply appoint the Hohenzollerns, whose divinity they have never questioned because for generations original thought has been "verboten" to all but the intellectual class, their administrative agents. The automatons who make up Berlin's titanic population are all scientifically bred to fill a particular place, and are educated, or rather, mis-educated, from childhood to fill that one particular place.

Mr. Hastings has succeeded in interweaving into his book a love story that always escapes being bizarre, no mean accomplishment in a tale depicting a society "that never was on land or sea" outside of an author's imagination.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."
N. B. SIZER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dempsey Tells Of Meeting With Carpentier In Ring

visit to this town; for criticism made me know I had an awful lot to learn. So I went back West, hooked up with Jack Kearns, and I got the necessary learning. Now I'm fit and ready and wildly anxious to show that I'm a somewhat different fighter than I was in 1916.

LIKES BIG CROWDS

Those who battled for years to bring back the fight game to this State certainly should feel happy about it, for the turn-out tonight was nothing less than marvelous. No champion figured on the fistic card, yet the great arena was packed to the limit.

I'm mighty glad that fights here are to decisions. That's the thing I've never believed much in those no-decision laws. It protects champions too much. Only way a challenger could win in a no-decision fight was to knock the other fellow to sleep. And some champions knowing they couldn't lose the title on points, but afraid of being socked to the floor, wouldn't fight. They'd just cover up, play it defensively—and that isn't fighting at all.

I'm for real fights. Have the men go out with the tap of the first gong and bang away at each other with everything they have every minute of the way, and that's the kind of fighting the new laws in New York will bring about at least in championship contests. Tex Rickard gained the added glory tonight of putting on the first show under the new law, and he put on a great one.

IGOE'S IMPRESSION

Bert Igoe, writing in the N. Y. World, has the following to say of the meeting between Georges and Jack:

"When Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, and Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe, who some day will aspire to the glittering crown, met for the first time in what Joe Humphries described as "this historic ring," the racket rocked the rafters.

"This meeting was of peculiar interest because of the fact that discussion has run riot concerning the weight of the two men for their proposed meeting. As a matter of fact they did not look far apart, and many agreed that what weight the Frenchman would have to give away might be offset by slightly greater speed.

"They are of much the same height, even if of entirely different build, and judging from expressions of opinion heard on all sides, the boxing world will not be satisfied until they clash in the same ring.

JUST LIKE PALS

"There was no mistaking the enthusiasm with which these great fighters clasped right and lefts together. Carpentier led off immediately with a fine running speech of adoration that Dempsey tried to drink in as he cocked an ear toward the Frenchman.

"Carpentier was perfectly at ease while Dempsey did his specialty, grinned boyishly and from the back of his neck. It was a thrilling moment in the life of the amazing soldier of France, for, though he talked freely and with the most astonishing nonchalance, he was on the job, never fear. His trained eyes were fairly devoring Dempsey as they raced over the giant frame of our boy champion.

"Carpentier was looking for Dempsey's weak spot then and there. No question about it."

Local Government Subject Of Address To Civic League

Mr. E. C. Pearce Will Speak At First Meeting Next Tuesday

Mr. E. C. Pearce, former Chairman of the Municipal Council of the International Settlement, will address the first meeting this autumn of the Shanghai Civic League on next Tuesday afternoon, October 26, 5:30 o'clock in the Lecture Room of the Royal Asiatic Society, 5 Museum Road. The subject of Mr. Pearce's address will be "The Municipal Government of Shanghai," and an invitation has been extended to the public to attend the meeting. At the close of the address there will be a general discussion.

LEAGUE GROWING

The Shanghai Civic League, which was started about a year ago by a group of British, American and Chinese residents of Shanghai now has a membership of 110. The purpose of the organisation is: (1) To promote interest in, and study and discussion of, municipal matters of importance to residents in Shanghai. (2) To provide an avenue through which may be expressed views and needs of those who by virtue of their interest in the affairs of the Settlement have a legitimate claim to their expression. (3) To secure collective action, when such is felt to be desirable, in the interests of public welfare.

Membership is open to English-speaking persons of any nationality, resident in the International Settlement of Shanghai, or having business or other interests in the Settlement, though themselves residing outside but in the vicinity.

DISCUSS PROBLEMS

The meeting next Tuesday is to be the first of a series of meetings planned for the coming season, at which some of the problems of the Settlement are to be discussed. Some of the general subjects are financial problems, traffic, Chinese relations, housing, parks and public recreation, the idea being to have each subject discussed by some one familiar with the problem under discussion.

MUNICIPAL STAFF CHANGES

The following changes in the Municipal Staff are announced in today's Municipal Gazette:

Police Force.—Constable T. C. O'Donovan is dismissed the Force from October 12.

Miss G. Tsirentschikoff-Segel is appointed Russian translator on probation from October 1.

Public Works Department.—Long leave is granted to Inspector J. Lamont from October 18.

Electricity Department.—Mr. F. Langford is appointed collector from October 14, on three months' probation.

Mr. C. Goodhind is appointed assistant inspector from October 14, on three months' probation.

LEATHER SUBSTITUTES & RUBBER COATED FABRICS

DU PONT
美商 恒信洋行

ESTABLISHED 1802

CAPITAL $240,000,000 GOLD

DU PONT PRODUCTS ARE MADE "FROM THE GROUND UP" BY THE DU PONT COMPANY IN ITS OWN PLANTS

THERE is no other industrial organization quite like that of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Inc. Its sixty-six large factories are working continuously turning out Du Pont Quality Products. One of these plants covers an area of twenty-one hundred acres.

DU PONT FABRIKOID

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

FABRIKOID is a superior leather substitute, twice as strong and much more serviceable than most of the leather sold today. It is far cheaper than leather, and there is practically no waste in using it. FABRIKOID is tough and durable, uniform in thickness, texture and strength. It is waterproof and mildew-proof; insects will not attack it; grease or dirt cannot penetrate its surface, and when soiled, it can be easily cleaned with a damp cloth. FABRIKOID is manufactured in weights varying from the thinnest sheetings to the tough and heavy qualities. It is made in nearly one hundred colors and shades and in a great variety of grains and finishes, and is adapted to almost every purpose and use that leather is.

MOTOR QUALITY FABRIKOID for Upholstering Automobiles and Rickshas.

This quality is as handsome, luxurious and pleasing to sight and touch as is the finest leather. It is far stronger than split leather and more dependable in every way.

CRAFTSMAN QUALITY FABRIKOID for Furniture.

This is the best material ever made for covering furniture and for general interior use. It gives full service and complete satisfaction everywhere. Made on a superstrong base with a fleecy back to make it thicker and softer.

It is much more serviceable than leather, since it will not absorb moisture, perspiration, grease or stains, and is not affected by dampness. It is easily stitched by hand or machine.

BOOK FINISH FABRIKOID

Waterproof and washable—no deterioration from hot and humid climates. Can be stamped in gold or silver leaf and pasted or glued by ordinary methods without special sizing. Saves labor and waste, as the FABRIKOID comes in rolls of uniform length and width.

RAYNTITE for Tops and Side Curtains,—Motor Cars, Ricshas, etc.

Comes in both single and double texture, superstrong and doubly waterproof. Does not blister under the sun's rays or lose its flexibility with the change of temperature or humidity of the atmosphere. Does not crack in winter.

FABRIKOID FOR TRAVELERS' LUGGAGE

CRAFTSMAN BAG SPECIAL QUALITY has largely displaced split leather in the manufacture of traveling bags, suit cases and trunks on account of its superior wearing qualities and lower cost. It can be depended on to give honest service and full value.

FABRIKOID FOR HATS AND CAPS.

FABRIKOID is especially well suited to the manufacture of Hats and Caps for Chauffeurs, for police, tramway and fire departments, military and fraternal organisations. It comes in various grades that are light weight, waterproof and not affected by any sort of weather.

FABRIKOID for Hat Sweats has no equal—perspiration has no affect on it. It remains permanently clean and dry while leather hat sweats stain and rot. It is admirably adapted for use in light colored hats as no perspiration can soak through and discolor.

FABRIKOID FOR RAILROADS.

Railroads use MOTOR AND CRAFTSMAN QUALITIES for upholstering the seats in smoking, dining and electric cars. We make a special heavy double-texture FABRIKOID for car and vestibule curtains.

MISCELLANEOUS USES FOR FABRIKOID.

The following are some of the many articles largely made from the sheeting grades or a combination of sheeting and heavy grades of FABRIKOID:

Aprons	Toilet Article Cases	Cutlery Cases	Gun Cases
Caps	Cushion Covers	Music Rolls	Wall Panels
Purses	Instrument Cases	Sewing Bags	Purses
Bill Books	Casket Lining	Vanity Cases	Screens
Golf Bags	Hand Bags	Jewel Boxes	Overcoat Linings
Humidors	Card Cases	Photo Boxes	Fancy Shoes
Hat Boxes	School Bags	Hoods	Show Window Upholstery
Children's Bibs	Tennis Bags	Cameras
Writing Sets	Blanket Linings	Tie Cases

DUPONT RUBBER COATED FABRICS

These RUBBER FABRICS are built on various weights and weaves of cotton cloth carefully selected for their quality and tensile strength. The rubber coating is applied in such a manner as to secure a firm and strong anchorage. Built to secure the requisite degree of elasticity, toughness and weather resistance. Comes in single and double texture grades. In the double-texture grades two layers of fabric are cemented together with waterproof cement.

DUPONT RUBBER TOP MATERIALS (For Automobiles, Carriages, Ricshas and Boats).

PONTOP is the highest quality top material ever produced with a rubber surface. It gives absolute protection and wears perfectly.

LUXAR is our second grade rubber top material and is better than a great many first grade rubber top materials now on the market. It will satisfy the most critical user.

RUBBER CURTAIN MATERIAL. We furnish a very high grade single and double texture to match both PONTOP and LUXAR. These materials come in all standard grades and finishes.

RUBBER CLOTH AND SHEETING. Made in various weights, widths and finishes with white, black, and drab back. The different grades of rubber cloth are used for making a great number of articles when a flexible waterproof fabric is necessary.

Copies of booklets describing the above-mentioned uses of FABRIKOID and RUBBER COATED FABRICS will be gladly sent on application.

The experience of more than 100 years in overseas trade, dealing with international merchants and commercial enterprises as well as in catering to the needs of the United States Government and many other governments, insures our clients an efficient service in the filling and shipment of their orders and a broad policy of intelligent cooperation. Our factories are large and shipments are made without delay.

To Foreign Exporters

GENTLEMEN,

As you know, the members of our Association by their contracts for delivery of Liquid Egg and Liquid Yolk are at present responsible for good quality of goods up to within four months from date of shipment from Shanghai.

During the past years so many claims have been made upon our members as to bad quality of Liquid Egg and Liquid Yolk, though shipped in good condition from Shanghai, that they lost large sums in paying such claims; in many cases, claims were double the contract price.

As we do not care to go into the question as to whether the large increase in the number and amount of claims made may not have some relation to violent fluctuations in exchange and fall in prices, the Association, on behalf of its members, instruct me to inform exporters that on all contracts for goods to be delivered on or after January 1st, 1921, no claim will be recognised by the sellers on goods which have been accepted by the buyers prior to shipment.

The Bargaining

BY O. K. YUI

PROVINCIALISM has never been so deliberately and explicitly propagated in China as it is nowadays. The cries of "Kiangsu for the Kiangsunese," "Anhui for the Anhuinese," "Kuangtung for the Kuangtungnese," and the like have become the watchwords of the day. Whenever there is left a vacancy of a tuchunate or a civil-governorship, such cries are sure to become tedious in one's ears.

Undoubtedly local government itself is not without merit. Nevertheless, it is not a necessary or fundamental condition for a nation like China, where the most urgent problem is not how the people can work smoothly together with their provincial authorities so much as how the different provinces—authorities and civilians alike—can best cooperate with or against the central government for the welfare of the country. And a doctrine of local government based upon provincial prejudice and personal bias and originating from selfish motives is nothing but an absurdity.

That the Canton strife at present is characterised by provincialism is certain. At the outset, the cry "Cantonese should not fight against the Cantonese" was utilised by the Kuangtung military leaders coming back from Fukien as a means of reducing to a minimum the resisting power of the "Kuangsi Army." But later on this cry found an echo modified somewhat, of course, in the sound "Kuangtung for the Kuangtungnese." A la mode!

But woe unto the Kuangtung populace who hold their chopsticks at the cannon's mouth.

The hard measures adopted by the Kuangsi authorities in Canton have caused much indignation in the minds of the Kuangtung people, and therefore, the present pending coup d'etat would mean a rescue for them. But a disinterested observer's opinion is that while whether or not they will be eventually rescued still remains to be seen, the most important thing of immediate concern is to rescue the poor, innocent populace whose lives and property have been imperilled by the civil strife on the part of the authorities.

At any rate their safety will depend solely upon the bargaining now going on between the two sides. With the support of Li and Wai, Tong Ting-kwong has been elected Tuchun to take Moh Yung-hsing's place, and has set up his headquarters at Honam. The newspapers report that while Tong has nominally become the new tuchun of Kuangtung and has issued orders with a view to carrying out the many functions incumbent upon him, on the other side of the Pearl River there is still the old tuchun, Moh, "reluctant to hand over the official seal," and demanding an enormous sum besides other things as a price for evacuating Canton. While the bargaining has not been settled, and actual fighting has been stopped in part by a sort of semi-armistice, there is much bombast on both sides; and thus comes apprehension on the part of people who love peace and understand that this is no time for an internal struggle.

The Kuangsi men dislike the popular cry of their neighbors, but much to their chagrin they find that to resort to rifle and cannon is futile so far as the maintenance of their foothold is concerned. Although the arsenal and other sources of ammunition are at their disposal, financial handicaps seal their fate, not to speak of their "walled in" position.

But one thing they can do and that effectively, is, to devastate Canton! In fact, if the bargaining does not turn out satisfactorily, the city will be ruined by the Kuangsinese or the Kuangtungnese themselves—most probably by both co-operatively.

This is the reason why the bargaining has invited the attention and enlisted the interest of all parties concerned. The Kuangtung people, including the Chamber of Commerce, have offered $1,500,000 as a farewell gift to the Kuangsi men who probably will accept it without thanks and without pleasure.

But still there will remain some questions, namely, what to do with the Kuangsi Army?—where will be their future station—and shall they be disarmed? If they should choose Shiaoching, a place of strategic importance as their centripetal retreating point, as was once proposed, and carry their weapons along with them as was done by Lung Chi-kwang's men some time ago, there would be the fear of renewed trouble, in which case the $1,500,000 will serve only as a recuperating dose. Therefore, following the bargaining, there will certainly be two vital problems that will help determine the situation—the place of retreat and the question of disarmment.

May the bargaining lead to some transaction! If it is to fix the price for Kuangtung purchased back from the Kuangsi men, may the property thus secured be forever free from the tyrannical rule of a few.

Says U.S. And England Will Divide World Shipping

In a world-wide survey of shipping conditions, Baron Nongo, president of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the biggest shipping concern in Japan, states that the day of shipping prosperity has passed. He also declares that in his behalf the governments of Great Britain and the United States have entered into an agreement to trades sphere each will embrace with its steamship lines. As published in the Japan Advertiser, Baron Nondo's statements made at a general meeting of the stockholders of his company are as follows:

"Before the war Germany and Austria owned 6,500,000 tons of shipping. What those countries have lost has been counterbalanced by the increased fleets of other countries. The pre-war tonnage of the world was 45,000,000 tons, of which 14,000,000 was lost because of the war. By the end of 1919 not only had this decrease been met, but the world's tonnage had been increased to 51,000,000 tons.

FORBIDS COASTWISE TRADE

"Canada and Australia have nationalised their merchant marine. Australia has absolutely forbidden foreign craft to engage in her coastwise trade. As well, she has proposed to impose an extra duty of five percent on goods brought by subsidised ships of foreign countries. Canada is now endeavoring to double her pre-war tonnage of 2,500,000 tons.

"Belgium, which formerly owned 200,000 tons of shipping, is reported to have ordered between 200,000 and 300,000 tons of new shipping. Many other countries are endeavoring to promote their shipping interests by nationalising their fleets or placing them under official control.

"Formerly England urged free trade and liberalism in other things, but a system of preferential customs' duties has been established between the other country and its colonies. In a word, Great Britain is endeavoring to maintain her supremacy on the seas.

"According to report, Lord Inchcape, president of the P. & O., proposes to map out the spheres of activity for British and American shipping, and it is said that a secret understanding already has been reached to this effect. If the merchant marines of the two greatest countries in the world concentrate their efforts to specified routes the effect on Japanese shipping will be considerable.

"Before the war Japan owned only 1,500,000 tons of shipping. That figure has since been increased by over 2,000,000 tons. But let it be remembered that the day of shipping prosperity is past. There are increasing difficulties ahead of Japanese shipping, and it is clear that the less substantial of the companies will come to grief through the working of the natural law of selection.

JAPANESE ON ALERT

"In order to neutralise the adverse effects of this state of affairs it is necessary that the Nippon Yusen Kaisha should endeavor to preserve the position which it has won by many years of effort and prepare the ground for further activities.

"Under the recent plan for constructing 500,000 tons of new shipping during the next five years we have ordered thirteen ships totalling 110,000 tons These ships will be completed during the next year, and when they fly our flag on the four seas of the world the position of the company will be immensely strengthened, and there will be appreciable additions to its spoils of the shipping war."

Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag
And smile, smile, smile!

My Dear Bertie: Yesterday I was sad. A dark cloud crossed my path. I read that the miners were all out on strike, and like Hamlet, I said to myself:

"The time is out of joint: O cursed spite
That ever I was born to set it right."

But today let us be happy. Let us send up a paean of joyous, juicy jingles of joy. Let us radiate laughter, loud, long laughter. Let us laugh heartily. Start the day with a smile and with Gratiano say:

"Let me play the fool!
With mirth and laughter let old wrinkles come—"

Those miner blighters are going to rouse the nation against them, and our merry laughter is going to overwhelm them so completely, that they will fly to the recesses of their mines to extract, at least, a little "Bottled Sunshine"—

So what's the use of worrying?
It never was worth while,
Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag

TIP ONE

My dear old Bean, when you bite off the end of your breakfast egg and it pops up and says "Good-morning" or answers you back, don't get annoyed, and don't hit out at the chicken with your newspaper. Just laugh. Sit right back in your chair and let the place shake with laughter.

TIP TWO

My dear Old Top, when the bath-pipe bursts, and the coolie rushes into your room with the joyous news, and you step on the baby in your mad rush to the bathroom, to stick a piece of stamp-edging over the burst, don't get excited, and say, "Bother" or words to that effect only more so. Just smile, and be happy. As the water streams down the stairs in miniature cascades let the house rock with your infectious laughter.

TIP THREE

My dear Old Thing, if the shroffs do hang around, don't let that disconcert you. Smile at them. Tell them "Next Month" will suit you as well as this; and if they remind you that you said "Next Month" last month, why, greet the reminder with a giddy laugh, and say "this month" is not "next month" so come "next month."

TIP FOUR

My dear Old Fellah, I remember once when the doctors ordered me an operation for the benefit of my health—or theirs, I'm not sure which—one of them said he'd do his best to pull me through, and remarked what a nice day it was. They didn't say what it was a nice day for. But I was glad he would try to pull me through. I told him if he didn't the jolly old laugh would be on him, and not on me. I well remember how I laughed then. But after the operation my laugh was hollow.

TIP FIVE

But my dear Old Chappie, above all keep laughing. When you are in a hurry to get home to tiffin, and your jolly old tin-lizzy gets behind a buzz-waggon that won't buzz—laugh. If you pass it and thus break the new Council regulations, don't get beevish, just look at Commissioner Schuhl the next morning with a smile in your bright eyes; pay the ten dollars; say you are sorry and then roar with laughter.

Very soon there will be a new by-law called the Compulsory Laughter Bill, when everybody found walking about without wearing a smile will be arrested for being improperly clad.

When that time comes to pass, if we want a Laughter Controller I am going to suggest Loug. Fairbanks or Sarah Jane—the Patron Saints of Laughter, the Stained Glass Windows of joy.

TIP SIX

My dear Old Blighter, whenever I wanted to be glad I used to go to the music halls. Now I read the Correspondence Columns in some of our newspapers. They are a riot and calculated to give the Laughing Hyena nervous debility.

Let the miner be the "Banisher of Joy;" let him try and chase the smile from the kiddies in the back street; let him try and bunker the bucket and spade of youth; but also let him see his place in the jolly old scheme of things and then with mirth and laughter we will be able to put right this funny old world, which at present seems to be out of joint.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

So—LAUGH!

Yours,
ALGENON.

Why Is The Irish Question Not Settled? A Dispassionate Analysis Of Conditions

BY P. W. WILSON

(American Correspondent of the London Daily News and Former Member of Parliament)

Plain people everywhere are today asking the plain question why—here and now—this Irish question should not be settled. And plain people are entitled to a plain answer, both from Ireland and from England. Politicians are few, plain people are many, and the many as well as the few have rights; and sooner or later those rights will have to be respected, even by extremists on both sides.

There are two ways and only two in which Mr. Lloyd George can settle with Ireland. First, he can meet Sinn Fein in conference and come to an agreed understanding. Secondly, he can pass some measure over the head of Sinn Fein. At present he is doing neither. There is no conference and there is no legislation—except coercion. That is the deadlock.

Why is there no conference? The reason is, again, simple. Sinn Fein says that the Irish republican leaders must only enter such conference as plenipotentiaries from an independent state—in other words, that British sovereignty must have ceased. The purpose of the conference would be merely to sign a treaty with England as between equals and so terminate "the war."

The Prime Minister, on his side, says that there can be no conference except on three preliminary conditions—namely, first, recognition of British sovereignty; secondly, special treatment of six counties in Ulster; and, thirdly, naval and military safeguards. Unless, therefore Mr. De Valera gives up his Presidency, or Mr. Lloyd George gives up the King's sovereignty over Ireland, the parties cannot meet. This is the situation, and in a sane world it is intolerable. It is because the parties disagree that they ought to confer. If they did agree, a conference would not be required.

I am one who thinks that even labor in Britain supports, however unwillingly, Mr. Lloyd George's three conditions. With those conditions I do not quarrel. But I still think that Mr. Lloyd George should handle the question of conference differently. Let us suppose, for the sake of argument, that Sinn Fein cannot hope for an independent Irish Republic, as demanded. Let us suppose that the ultimate solution is to be Dominion Home Rule. Even on that assumption it is unreasonable to ask the Sinn Feiners to surrender their chief bargaining point before the bargain is even discussed. Suppose that the surrender were made and a conference called and that on a previous occasion Sir Edward Carson and the Tories made trouble at a later stage, where would Mr. De Valera be? He would be as completely ruined as was Mr. John Redmond when the late conference broke down. Mr. De Valera must enter the conference fully equipped or not at all, and I cannot but believe that Mr. Lloyd George is shrewd enough to know this better than anybody can tell him.

The Prime Minister should meet Mr. De Valera and his colleagues just as he meets the Soviet delegates. In that case, as in the Irish case, the conversations do not mean a recognition of the "Government," authorising the delegation. Quite the contrary. Moreover, it is surely clear that the Sinn Fein leaders cannot act without their Dail Eirrean. You may ignore Sinn Fein and suppress it, or you may bargain with Sinn Fein—one or the other—but you cannot logically talk about desiring to bargain with Sinn Fein as Mr. Lloyd George appears to do unless you are ready to allow Sinn Fein, as a movement, to discuss and ratify the bargain.

That is what needs saying to Mr. Lloyd George. But public opinion should also deal with Sinn Fein. Some people will ask me to denounce this movement as pro-German, criminal and the rest of it. My object is not recrimination but reconstruction. I want friendship, not diatectics. Therefore, I put this to Sinn Fein—"you are adopting pretty strong tactics. In your 'war' against England you are quite ready, apparently, to involve Asia and Africa, and even the United States. You are thus causing a good deal of disturbance in a planet already disturbed to distraction. Now, your 'war' may be all right or it may be all wrong, but at least you should be very clear as to your casus belli. Are you now fighting on differences that are worth the cost. All I do is to put the question.

In the world today there are twenty different kinds of "sovereignty." Rhode Island is a sovereign State. Occupied by Japan, Shantung is under Chinese sovereignty. Panama is an independent republic, like Hayti, governed by the Navy Department! Canada is British. Under Lord Cromer and the Khedive, Egypt was "ruled" by the Sultan of Turkey. Hyderabad, in mid-India, has only "a treaty" with King George. And so on—and so forth. I can imagine a sovereignty for Ireland which would permit the Irish flag to be flew, the Irish plenipotentiary to sit with the League of Nations, Irish Consuls promote Irish interests wherever desired, the Erse language to be pronounced by all who can, with complete Irish schools, Irish land, Irish trade, Irish universities and everything else that is Irish; with full freedom as now for Irish faiths. When we are considering matters in the dread terms of peace and war, when lives are at stake on the one side and the other, is not such a sovereignty as this worth considering by the men who under it would probably form the first Irish Cabinet.

In Sinn Fein there is an overwhelming sentiment in favor of an Ireland united under one Parliament. Even if that Parliament met in Belfast, not Dublin, it is held that it should speak for the entire nation, with her boundaries determined by the Almighty. Who ordained the country to be an island. Let us accept this as the ideal. Even so, does anybody regard Ireland as thus united here and now? Suppose there were an acknowledged republic. To what extent would Belfast pay income tax. I can imagine a sovereignty which might be invaluable as a means of working toward Irish unity, just as such sovereignty—criticise it as much as you like in other ways—has contributed to evolve unity between Boer and Briton in South Africa, between French and Briton in Canada and between Islam and Buddha in India. The Ulster of Canada was Quebec. The Ulster of South Africa was Natal. The Ulster of Australia was New South Wales. Yet in every case there was a reconciliation to the Commonwealth.

I cannot believe, then, that there are no materials for an understanding even with Sinn Fein. And if in this I am right, it is obvious that a conference should take place. But men's passions may be so aroused as to make any conference impossible. On that supposition, which cannot be lightly dismissed, the move lies with Mr. Lloyd George. He must arrive at a measure for Ireland, over Ireland's head, and must hope that as a fait accompli Ireland will accept and work the measure.

Here, then, may be genuine misunderstanding, because Irish opinions look at British legislation in terms of the American Constitution, which can only be revised with much difficulty. A British statute can be amended at any time and with comparative ease. Indeed, the Act of Union itself was so amended when the Irish Church was disestablished. Sinn Fein may argue that this right of amendment cuts both ways, but in recent colonial practice it has worked wholly in favor of the dominions. Indeed, Canada, despite the emergence of her strong national instincts, prefers her more flexible British North America Act to a Dominion Constitution, only amendable by consent of all nine povinces. The mistake made constantly by Irishmen as well as Englishmen is in discussing proposed settlements as if, like the laws of the Medes and Persians, they were final. Whereas, there is no settlement that cannot be improved with experience and developed further with good will.

Now, there are on the table three plans. First, we have on the statute book Mr. Asquith's Home Rule Bill. Next we have, "in Committee of the House," Mr. Lloyd George's Home Rule Bill, which the peers will accept. Thirdly, there is Dominion Home Rule, into which either of the previous measures can be transformed by amendments. We are told first that this clause won't work; then that some sub-section is absolutely fatal; but the fact is that any of these bills would work as a start, if people wanted them to work. And if the angel Gabriel were to announce a fourth and a fifth and a sixth bill there would be those who would promptly pick to pieces the divine revelation because lighthouses or census returns were improperly provided for. Lighthouses and census returns are doubtless very vital matters, but they are not worth war between nations that ought to be friends.

I shall be asked, first on one side and then on the other, what about Archbishop Mannix and Lord Mayor MacSweeney and the murdered policemen and the Orange riots and the kidnapped General and all the other foolish or tragic happenings and utterances that enrage people, either for or against Ireland? My answer is that these are symptoms, not causes. Deal with the cause and the symptoms will die down and disappear. I am not going to argue with delirium. What doctors do is to prescribe for the fever.

And I wish to add this in conclusion: One reason why Ireland is not always understood can be very simply stated. Most of the world is indifferent to the Christian religion as a compelling personal influence. Erin is still a land of saints. About their churches, Catholics and Protestants care intensely and for their beliefs Catholics and Protestants would die without a murmur. All honor to both sides. A little more of such religion would do no nation much harm. But if religion, whatever be the form it takes, inflames men's minds instead of promoting peace and happiness among men, it follows that religion, whatever be the form it takes, will be discredited among those who have it not. For thirty years after the Reformation mid-Europe was devastated by wars of religion. Men fought one another in faith until they fought like wild beasts. And over many areas nothing survived, whether of life or of property. With this as a warning it is not open to men claiming to act under a sense of responsibility, whichever view they take, to play the part of incendiary. To foster peace is the peremptory and immediate duty of every good citizen, to whatever country he belongs.

Prices Must Be Adjusted By Intelligent Consumers

BY CHARLES GIDE

(Celebrated Economist, Professor at the Faculty of Law, University of Paris)

The high cost of living is not really as unpopular as people would have us believe. Low prices would not be as welcome as might be imagined. As a matter of fact, high or low prices are not the most important factor in the economic life of the individual, since both producers and consumers end by adjusting themselves to one or the other.

What is important is the stabilisation of prices.

If some sort of a plebiscite could be held to get the nation's real opinion on the H. C. L., I believe it would get more votes than the low.

This may seem paradoxical, granted that there are more consumers than producers.

But it must be remembered that every consumer who, at the same time, is either a producer or a seller (and this includes the majority of all consumers) thinks only of his selling interests and looks upon his purchasing price as a negligible quantity.

LIKE RISING BAROMETER

A rising cost of living may be compared to a rising barometer—it stands for good times.

A falling cost of living is synonymous with what may be called a period of depression; it stands for bad times, lessened activity, unemployment, bankruptcies.

The war would never have lasted five years if prices had not gone up. The continual soaring of the cost of living sustained the moral—let us say the economic morale—of the country.

The greatest drop in the cost of living may not be an undisputed advantage. Coming suddenly, bringing about the lowering of the demand after supplies have been purchased, it may throw the economic balance out of gear.

The object is not reduction or increase of prices, but stabilisation. This is the only method which enables the producer to calculate the cost of production and a fair selling price. It is the only means whereby the consummer can plan his budget.

In France, at present we hear of nothing but "waves" of this or that—waves of rise in cost, waves of lowering prices. With economic conditions as they are today, it is sheer folly to encourage any "wave." They should all be done away with.

STABILISE CONDITIONS

In heavy seas navigators throw oil on the water, to quiet the tormented waves, replacing storming whitecaps by low, rythmatic swells.

It is the consumer's duty to pour oil on the troubled economic waters.

When prices start soaring he should immediately cease buying so as to reduce the demand for the articles in question and not exhaust the supply. When prices drop, on the contrary, he should buy, so as to stimulate the demand and prevent the market from collapsing.

In other words instead of following madly the tendencies of the market, the consumer should regulate it, thereby stabilising prices and bringing about that economic adjustment which spells prosperity.

High Heels And School

BY DR. WM. A. McKEEVER

(Professor in the University of Kansas and a Well Known Educator)

"The higher the heels the lower the grades."—Remark of a high school principal.

That high heels, as now worn by school girls, have a very bad effect upon the mentality and the disposition of their victims there is little room for doubt. The pains and strains, the loss of equilibrium of the entire body, the compensatory bends and curves—nature's rebellion against such an abuse and her effort to correct it—these matters all react upon the mind. Some day, I hope, we shall have a comparative test of high-heel girls and low-heel girls to determine the actual difference in their grades and department.

If one is suffering from a dull tooth ache the consequent nerve reaction and bodily strains noticably disturb the digestive processes and correspondingly the keenness and clearness of the thinking.

This suggests the type of the mental influence of high heels. The loss of bodily poise and of organic well-being and equilibrium breaks up the rythmic life processes. Stupidity, dullness, irritability, eccentricity, weakened memory, lack of continuity of thinking, and the like—these are the prices some of which must be paid by the pupil who is suffering from any kind of organic derangement.

But in order to convince the parent of the folly of high heels for the school girl, and especially of the possible loss of mental ability and moral quality—"the resultant foot strains or foot ills not being confined to the foot itself, but traceable to referred pains and referred disorders" says an eminent physician and lecturer—let us note the following:

1. Loss of bodily posture.
2. Disturbed foot flexion.
3. Slight bending of the knees.
4. Sagging of the abdomen.
5. Flattening of the chest.
6. Double curvature of the spine.

These suggest the general disturbances of bodily equilibrium and the derangements of organic function which are certain in some degree to accompany the use of high heels.

Take number four above, for example. The sagging of the abdomen means weakened liver and kidney action, either one of which has a most pronounced influence upon the mind. The poison clogged in the liver means poison in the brain. Retarded kidney action means likewise dulled brain action. The connections between mind and body are here most positive and quick to reveal themselves.

Or, take number five. Flattening of the chest means weakened lung activity and a decrease in red blood corpuscles, another most positive deterrent of the mind. The drooping of the head, so noticeable here, is but another coincidence of a corresponding bend backward in the spine, a small bump, at the shoulders, and probably another one at the lower spinal region.

Consider again the sagging of the abdomen. This means tight lacing and stiff corsets to hide the deformity, with contracted waist line, weakened wall muscles and congested blood supply. Here we have a further blow at the heart action, the general circulatory system, the normal fresh tone and vigor of both the body and the mind.

Finally, I am not discussing health, but mind and morals. If you want your girl to learn easily, to receive high grades and to lead her class, get her down off those high heels at once.

Birth Of The Opal

BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

The Sunbeam loved the Moonbeam,
And followed her low and high;
But the Moonbeam fled and hid her head,
She was so shy—so shy.

The Sunbeam wooed with passion,
Ah! he was a lover bold,
And his heart was afire with mad desire
For the Moonbeam pale and cold.

She fled like a dream before him,
Her hair was a shining sheen;
And, oh, that Fate would annihilate
The space that lay between.

Just as the Day lay panting
In the arms of the Twilight dim,
The Sunbeam caught the one he sought
And drew her close to him.

But out of his warm arm, startled
And stirred by love's first shock,
She sprang afraid, like a trembling maid,
And hid in the niche of a rock.

And the Sunbeam followed and found her,
And led her to love's own feast,
And they were wed on that rocky bed,
And the dying day was their priest.

And lo! the beautiful Opal,
That rare wandrous gem,
Where the moon and sun blend into one,
Is the child that was born to them.

Saturday, October 23rd.—A Sportman's Auction will be held in our Salesroom at 11 a.m.

IN UPPER SALESROOM
ON
Saturday, October 23rd at 2.30 p.m.

A Really Magnificent Collection of Superb Early European

POSTAGE STAMPS

comprising such classical rarities as the first and Bordeaux issues of France, Fine old German States, incl. Saxony, 3 Pf. catalogued £70, etc., etc., broken up in small lots to suit individual advanced collections and particularly suitable for investment.

All the stamps are in the finest possible condition, the early imperforates having been specially selected for that condition, and for large margins. Stamps now on view and catalogues ready.

It is safe to say that an opportunity to obtain such fine old stamps will probably not occur again in Shanghai, and no advanced collector can afford to miss this auction.

Saturday, October 23rd.—An exceedingly valuable collection of Postage Stamps in our upper Salesroom at 2.30 p.m. Our expert states that this will be the most important sale of stamps ever held in Shanghai, and should not be missed by advanced collectors. Now on view, and catalogues ready.

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand's exchange circular for week ending Wednesday, October 20, states:

Exchange:—The London price of Silver at 50 1/2d. is 3 3/4d. down during the week and reported weak. New York Silver is quoted 76 1/4 c. per oz. pure.

Following silver our rate for T.T. on London is down to 5s. 1d. against last week's closing quotation of 5s. 4d.

There has been a good demand for Gold remittances with very little export paper offering as cover. In the last two days there has been cover in the shape of resales of T.T. on London "profit taking" by our local gold dealers. The market closes firm on this, with 5s. 2d. offering against it.

Local stocks of Silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 35,331,000 an increase of Tls. 1,294,000.

Chinese and Mexican Dollars $28,580,000 a decrease of $403,000.

Estimated value in Taels 56,194,000.

Stock of silver on October 22, 1919, Taels 27,991,000.
